SWIERZEWSKI CHOSEN NEW CCD CHAIRMAN TO SUCCEED BURKE

By John Davenport

Stanley J. Swierzewski, '54, was elected this week to replace Alexander Burke, '53, as Chairman of the Holy Cross Chapter of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. Swierzewski, an A.B. student, is a native of Holyoke, Mass., and a member of AFROTC.

Plans for increased membership and improvement of the current teaching program will be developed by the organization in the fall. According to Swierzewski, the tentative plans for a greatly expanded schedule of activities will necessitate several additional members in order to ensure their success in the coming year.

Next Year's Plans

Among the features being planned for next year's program are the formation of Adult Discussion Groups in Worcester parishes, instruction of retarded patients in the State Mental Hospital, and a course in the teaching of high school level religion for members of the Confraternity interested in this particular field. Present members of the organization are giving religious instruction in grammar, junior high, and high school. This work, and what is being planned for the coming year, will be furthered by the new members which are to be distributed to confraternity teachers at the beginning of the coming semester.

Air, Navy ROTC Units Stage Annual Review

"I Love A Parade" was this afternoon's theme song as a combined ROTC Band played in the annual Review. Joseph A. Clair, '53, Wing Commander of the AFROTC unit gave the orders in his capacity as Commander of the Troops.

After the group commanders reported, all officers were ordered front and center and given their instructions. They returned to their respective commands and the inspecting party trooped the line. When the band had sounded off, all those to be decorated were ordered front and center to receive their awards. The band played the National Anthem, and Cadet Colonel Clair ordered "Pass in review."

The Navy Battalion swung forward to the tune of "The Stars and Stripes Forever." In their working blue baker, including rifle, cartridge belt and leggings, were under Patrick McKenna, '53, Battalion Commander Group 1. Cadet Major Thomas V. Marino, '55, commanded Group 2 made up of AFROTC students in their dress uniforms, and Joseph C. Reilly, '55, commanded Group 3 of the AFROTC.

Brigadier General Joseph G. Hopkins, USAF, Deputy Commander, Atlantic Division of MATS, represented the Air Force, while Rear Admiral John L. McCrea, USN, Commandant of the First Naval District, reviewed for the Navy. Among the other members of the reviewing party were Rev. Father Rector and the Rev. James E. Fitzgerald, S.J.

Both the ROTC staffs were present, headed by their Senior officers Captain John A. Glick, USN, and Colonel James T. Murray, USAF.

SENIOR RESERVATIONS FOR CLASS LUNCHEON TO CLOSE THIS WEEK

Reservations for the Commencement Luncheon in Kimball on June 10, will close on May 17, it was announced this week by General Chairman Armand U. Garofalo, '53.

Full payment and exact number and names of all guests must be turned over to the committee no later than June 3, the first day of the retreat.

The luncheon will feature a full course roast beef dinner as well as table service by waiters.

Final Reservations

This week only, the ticket committee will contact seniors for reservations. After this week seniors who have not made reservations will have to do so on their own. A "first come, first served" plan will be in effect. The day students and off-campus students will contact Francis D. Hassett.

However, only those who have purchased tickets for their entire party can reserve seats. All tickets are on sale at $2.25, but seniors, and faculty members they invite, will be admitted free.

Organized Setting

The above arrangements will keep the Class and their families together on this last day and will facilitate seating assignments. It will also afford an organized setting for seniors and their guests to become acquainted.

The formal program, listing all guests and their seat numbers, the menu, and the program of events, will be distributed through P.O. boxes.

Garofalo noted that due to the complexity of the arrangements, everything will close down on the night the Retreat begins.

Friday, May 8, the student body chose by secret ballot the men who will head the various classes for next year. The winners were chosen from the list of candidates who emerged successful in the primaries held on Monday. Balloting was generally large, although the Freshman class, which usually boasts a large turnout, had comparatively few voters.

ROBERT J. MEYER CHOSEN TO BE VALEDICTORIAN, JOHN K. O'CONNOR PICKED FOR SALUTATORIAN

By Dick Derry

In an announcement from the Office this week, Robert J. Meyer, of Palisades, N. J., was named Valedictorian of the Class of 1953. At the same time, John K. O'Connor, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., was named Salutatorian.

From his dramatic work, Meyer has copped the annual Oratorical Contest for the past two years. He has been a frequent contributor to the TOMAHAWK and the Purple, and also been active in the History Society, the Cross and Scroll, the B.J.F., and Alpha Sigma Nu.

Robert E. Meyer, '53, Class Valedictorian, and John K. O'Connor, '53, Class Salutatorian, discuss topics for their coming graduation talks.

Sneak Preview

By Bob Dalury

"Flesh and Fury"

Cast: Jan Sterling, Tony Curtis, Mona Freeman, Wallis Ford, Jean McGoldrick.

Plot: A deaf mute becomes a boxing champion, frees himself from those who would willfully exploit him, and manages to adjust to society.

Comment: With the final edition of Sneak Preview, we bring you "Flesh and Fury," Saturday's feature at Kimball Theater. For you fight fans who enjoy a good scrap, here's a picture with an unusual twist.

The hero is a deaf-mute who battles his way up the steep ladder to championship fame only to discover that his friends have merely been hitching their wagon to his star. A freak accident restores the boxer to his normal senses, and, without making this fact known, he learns a great deal about what's going on. Tony Curtis is a virile crowd-pleaser, and the women complicating his life are Jan Sterling and Mona Freeman.

The following week (May 23) will be the finale at Kimball Theater this season. "Above and Beyond," co-starring Robert Taylor and Eleanor Parker, will be the attraction. It is an authentic and moving tale of the secrecy involved in dropping the first atom bomb, and the domestic struggles complicating the hero's life.

T'HAWK HITS THE P.O. AFTER HECTIC NIGHT IN CARLIN CUBBYHOLE

By Tom Gray

I was standing at the Bar of Justice (that's the counter outside the Discipline Office) the other night waiting for the weekly issue of the TOMAHAWK to hit my mail box when a sudden thought struck me. Could all these fellows who were standing around be really interested in the contents of the paper? . . . I wonder.

Every week, either on the first Thursday or first Friday we have, the paper hits the P.O. Little gremlins crawl into the dark recesses of the U. S. Mail Station in Kimball to bring the latest earth-shaking news to the world of Mt. St. James. It is obvious that a whole lot of work goes into the paper—work which sometimes can become arduous. Few people realize, though, that a night in the T'HAWK Office can be quite amusing. Since we manage to bring the news of every other society on the Hill, it is only fitting that we bore you with the story of how we bring that news—the story of a typical night in the Carlin cubbyhole.

Starting Work?

Since Monday is usually the opening night of the routine, we'll not bore you with the handing in of stories, etc., but will take Tuesday, the night the galleys come back from the printers, as our typical night.

Carlin, Tuesday, 6:30 p.m. (TP) . . . Just arrived at the Office to find the situation well in hand. News and Sports copy just back from the printers. Both editors sorting furiously. The News Editor has run into a slight error on someone's part. (He'll blame it on the Asst. News Editor, who'll blame it on the . . . well, you know what I mean.) No matter whom they blame, they still have to get that Lucky Strike ad off Page One. The News Editor, whose initials are L.S.M.F.T., would like to keep it

The Class Of 1953

Four years is a short time in the life of a college. The institution watches, secure in its 110 years of age, while classes of eager boys come to live in her halls, drink deep of the knowledge she has saved for them, reap the great religious benefits she offers, make life-long friends, and then leave as her well-educated young men. In another month, another class will have completed its four-year cycle of study, Mass, friendship and that almost carefree sociability of youth.

How will the Class of 1953 be remembered? Have they managed to leave a permanent impression on the college which brought them to maturity? Have they left behind an example to be emulated? In short, have they been a "good" class? The answer lies in the record this year's seniors leave behind them. They have been students, athletes, campus leaders, firm and faithful friends. Among their number have been national presidents, All-Americans, faithful Sodalists, Worcester cops and postmen, NCAA Champions, Intramural champions, editors, poets, radio announcers, honor scholars whose ambitions do not end with a Bachelor's diploma.

Among these 385 men, who come from Madawaska, Maine, and San Diego, California, the common note, the one quality they all seem to possess, has been that intangible, elusive quality called Spirit. Their spirit is reflected in the volume of their voices at football games, the high quality of their blue books, the overwhelming number of them who have been active in extra-curricular activities.

If they have managed to instill a little of their spirit in the underclassmen who follow them, the Seniors will be satisfied. They would like to feel that Holy Cross has been just a little better for their having been there. They have gained much by being at Holy Cross.

A Man And The Artist

"No government or institution, state or church, may tell the artist what he is to tell about his life or the world around him, but his art will tell him how he is to feel. He is to feel as man."

With these words poet Archibald MacLeish, two-time Pulitzer Prize winner, opened a symposium on "Art and Morals" at Smith College a fortnight ago. They have a startling significance in an age when America has become more conscious of censorship than ever before. It is all too obvious that Mr. MacLeish is speaking of a "McCarthy-minded" government. It is all too plain that Mr. MacLeish is chiding the Roman Catholic Church.

What, we fear, Mr. MacLeish is neither clear nor plain about is the meaning of his verb "feel." Certainly, control over the psychological processes of the human composite is a large order. God's infinite wisdom left such governance to the individual. That infinite wisdom further dictated a code of morality to guide that governance, a code which is made known to every man, artist or no, by right reason. Further, the authority to interpret the secondary precepts of the fundamental fact of Recently there has been a horrible five-letter word on everyone's lips. Yes indeed, unfortunate ones, it seems like only yesterday that you were suffering, but a relapse has developed. Exams are here again. There is, of course, the usual wave of goatee growing (the select I-Won't-Shave-Unless-I'm-Home-Again Club), and the normal number of nervous collapses. We were told that this year the majority of the questions would be essays. The essay question is a written exercise in which the student puts down what he knows (Horace was a Latin poet) and develops it (four hundred words or more). We recall—with some sympathy—a friend of ours who played the "sure bet" system. After consulting several of the most reliable soothsayers, he decided that the big question on his history exam would concern the French Revolution. Imagine his surprise when the test called for a discourse on the exploits of Julius Caesar! Never daunted, he took up his pen and began to write. "Julius Caesar was a famous Roman who conquered many regions including Gaul which is a territory embracing, in part, the present French nation which, in 1789, there was a bloody revolution." If any of you feel that the French Revolution is a "sure bet" this year, you may obtain valuable information by dropping a note to our friend. He now resides at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

A FEW DOODLES: Attention investigators: rumor hath it that the philosophy department has been infiltrated by a number of card-carrying members of the Dominicans. Suggest immediate purge. One can't be too careful in these days of "academic freedom." . . . Our thanks to the inventor of the campus screens. Every imaginable insect, scorpion, and spider gains easy entrance to our room, but not ONE of them can get out. Now that the elections are over, things are back to normal again. One can walk from Beaven to Kimball without being plagued with blotters, pamphlets, handshakes, back-slaps, and inspirational circulars. We're not anti-social; we're just poor, tired, old, weathered, etc., etc., etc. . . . Students are asked not to pick the Linden trees on Linden Lane. There are only a couple of them left—what the others are we don't know. Any student it would be a shame if we had to substitute Ash or Elm or Dogwood for all the traditional songs, poems, and "Bully-for-Linden-Lane" cheers.

Saying farewell is always a most difficult task, and the fact that only a few short months does not seem to lighten it. However, gentlemen, through our tears, we can glimpse a sandy beach, a summer sky, a tankard full of ale. And so, painful though it is, we call forth our courage, dry our weeping eyes, and bid you all a very fond and a very reliable "Adieu."

SENIORS TAKE NOTE!

How will next year's football team fare? Will Doctor Anderson lead out another football powerhouse in '53? Can "Bus" Sheary bring the Raiders into the NCAA again? Will Togo Palazzi break Cousy's all-time scoring record? How will the baseball, track, swimming, golf, tennis, and hockey teams do?

What faculty changes will be made on the Hill in September? Which of your friends will win offices in H.C. elections, teams, and organizations? What famous lecturers and guests will visit the Cross? Will H.C. Blood Drive figures again next year?

These are only some of the news events which will be covered in the TOMAHAWK next year. Besides these, your college paper affords up-to-the-minute world and sports observations, colorful and amusing cartoons, weekly columns, and a variety of news and humorous features of life on the Hill—life on the Hill as it is and how you'll like to remember it.

All this can be brought your way for less than twelve cents a week. For twelve cents a week, or only three dollars a year, you can read the TOMAHAWK in any CORNER OF THE EARTH. Already, we mail it to the Far East and several European countries.

Interested in the doings of your Alma Mater? If so, drop a note to your name and room number either in the T'HAWK office or with W. J. Mattura, '55, in Wheeler 133, or in P.O. Box 1140.

This goes for underclassmen, too. If you've got friends or relatives who would like to see the TOMAHAWK, contact Will Mattura, at the above addresses.

SHARPS and FLATS

By Bill Kane

At the Music Clubs Banquet last Monday evening, Benjamin A. Drabek, '53, was presented with the Award of Merit. This honor, bestowed on the graduating Senior who has done the most for the Clubs, consists in having Drabek's name placed on the Award of Merit Plaque in the Clubs' office, and also an appropriate gift.

Five Men Lost

Although the Glee Club is losing only five men, those five are the cream of the crop, and each one was a serious contender for the honor. Drabek gained the coveted award by reason of the fact that he was trombonist and baritone horn player in the Band for four years, Student Chapel organist for three years, and accompanist for the Glee Club and soloists for four years. An A.B. English major from Hadley, Mass., Drabek once during the past season kept an experimental time card and found he spent 25 hours a week in his musical activities.

The other graduating Seniors are John M. Driscoll, Arthur W. Kane, James T. Larkin, and George C. Vomacka, and it would be most unfair not to mention a few words about these other men.

Driscoll, from Taunton, Mass., set the enviable record of being baritone soloist for four years, and his fine voice and tender interpretations of modern ballads have consistently thrilled audiences everywhere.

Kane, another four-year-man, hails from Syracuse, and has been one of the main reasons for the concerts there. This year, as Manager of the Glee Club, Art was in charge of all attendance, music, and stage preparations, and his work was marked with unimpeachable diligence.

Jim Larkin

It seems almost useless and empty to list Jim Larkin's achievements. This Quincy, Mass., man, as Business Manager of the Clubs, has been acknowledged as master of all the details involved in feeding, housing, and moving the Band and Glee Club on the various trips. Nobody envies the man who has to fill Jim's boots, and who has to maintain his standard of efficiency.

How the Glee Club will repair the loss of George Vomacka's ready smile and vibrant tenor voice is one of the problems facing the Club next year. George, whose college career was interrupted by a two-year stretch in the Marines, is from East Longmeadow, Mass. After being catcher on the Varsity for a year, he switched to the Music Clubs, and this year was student director of the Pakachoagians, who have warmed many an audience with their classy renditions.

LOOPHOLES IN OLD RULE BOOK PLUGGED IN REVISED EDITION

By Bill Herron

You're probably the casual type of character, the real tiger type who laughs at rules. That's the way I used to be, too; that is, until I dreamed of reading a new, original robin's-egg-blue pamphlet so similar to the Student Regulation Book. I'd just like to give you a cross-section of the rules around this place as they were in my dream of the future.

Preface: This book is intended for the good of the student body. Its aim is to give information.

Classroom Regulations

1. Attendance at class is unlimited.
2. Absences are only reported when you're not there.
3. Students who are late will be considered as tardy.
4. Excuses from class can be obtained.
5. Students who absent themselves from any less than fifteen classes will be asked to withdraw from the school, during the semester, of course.

Attendance At Class Exercises

1. Classes begin before they end.
2. The classroom should be kept neat and clean. Disfiguring or marking up the professor should be avoided unless you're in the mood.
3. Smoking is forbidden in classrooms unless the class is in progress.
4. Students should only sleep in class if and when they are tired.
5. Respect for the instructor will prompt the students to laugh at his jokes.

Examination Regulations

1. No one may bring anything illicit to the classroom.
2. There is to be no communication unless an answer is needed.
3. No one may leave his place unless he wants to take a walk.
4. Latecomers will be admitted only upon the presentation of something illicit.
5. When the proctor gives the signal for the end of the examination, all should stop writing, refrain from laughing, and start cheating.

Dormitory Regulations

1. Damage done to the dormitory rooms will be charged to the maids.
2. Gambling in dormitory rooms is forbidden. A classroom in each building will be kept open for this purpose, provided no one smokes.
3. Intoxication, even for the first offense, is punishable with dizziness and nausea.

4. A charge of $5.00 per year will be made for the use of a still. Consideration for the feeling of others should govern its use.

Dining Hall Regulations

1. It is positively forbidden to gag on the eggs. They are not powdered.
2. (It is positively forbidden to wash your hands in the finger bowls.)
3. It would be considered impertinent for any student to inquire of the moderator of the dining hall where his tie is.
4. Tables are not to be removed from the hall under any circumstances.

Order of Time

- 6:45 Roll over.
7:00 It's cold in here.
7:30 Some fool is eating those eggs.
8:15 Did they check?
8:40 Go to class. If you're tired, cut first and second period.
12:30 Wake up and leave the classroom.
12:40 They're all going in. You can take it. After all, food is food.
1:00 Steady (he's bringing the bromo).
1:15 Interchange gags with the cleaning lady.
1:40 More class. They really go for this education stuff.
3:30 Tomorrow's another day.
5:30 Finish playing a quick game of pitch. Your exercise for the day.

good and evil, precepts which might otherwise be lost, has been given by God to the Church and the state. Thus, the Church and state may often tell the individual if "what he feels about his life or the world around him" is good or bad, helpful or harmful to himself and others.

Mr. MacLeish's substitute for this authority based on the absolute is the amorphous terminology of art. According to Aristotle, however, art merely imitates nature, striving the while to depict things as they "ought to be." Who, then, is to be the arbiter of "what ought and ought not to be" included in the realm of art? Certainly not the artist, for this is too large a task for the man called to such a vocation. The artist is bound to imitate nature, not to define it. Left as definers are Church and state.

Mr. MacLeish says that "He (the artist) is to feel as a man." What the Pulitzer poet failed to express, however, is that attendant on men's artistic feelings should be and must be feelings of human dignity and decency, feelings of responsibility to protect the physical and moral well-being of their society and state. These are the feelings state and Church would instill in the artist, and these are the facts the artist must realize if he is to be first a man and then an artist, a true "imitator of nature."

Beer is deep-brewed for flavor that chill can't kill

Ballantine brews for flavor! For lightness, yes! For dryness, of course! But first, last, and always, Ballantine brews for flavor. The fine, full flavor of the world's choicest grains and hops is brewed so deep in this beer that chill can't kill it. Every glass just brims with flavor.

How cold do you like your beer?

Good and cold, if you're like most people. Beer is usually served at temperatures ranging from 35° to 42° Fahrenheit.

Ballantine Beer is deep-brewed to hold its flavor at whatever temperature you like best!

SIR SHANE'S GHOSTLY FRIENDS ENTERTAIN KIMBALL AUDIENCE

By Graham Miller

Ghost stories, narrated in a brisk Irish style by Sir Shane Leslie, entertained the audience that filled into Kimball Auditorium last Thursday evening for the last of this year's series of Cross and Scroll lectures. Sir Shane, garbed in a vibrant green outfit replete with kilt and knee length hose, spoke on "Ghosts I Have Known." Sir Shane put his dry wit on display with several humorous anecdotes on past lectures.

Serious Effects

He told of the effect his tales had on the students of a Catholic College in the Midwest. Many of the lesser "saints" were observed stealing into the chapel at a rather late hour. Next morning, the president of the college broke bread with Sir Shane, and, in response to Leslie's concern for his rather haggard appearance, hastily assured the latter that he had not been scared by the lecture, but had been awakened at three in the morning because the supply of holy water had been exhausted.

Turning to a more serious aspect of his subject, Sir Shane then told of his long association with a Father Thurston and the Physical Research Institute. Father Thurston, whom Sir Shane described as the most outstanding Jesuit he has ever known, and Sir Shane himself set about to disprove the common theory of the early twenties that "ghosts come not so much from the grave as from the grave."

Sir Shane then distinguished between hallucinations and apparitions, hallucinations being appearances which only one person can see, while apparitions are witnessed by two or more individuals.

Dream Comes True

Returning to the lighter side of the topic, the speaker entertained the audience with some of the famous stories he has investigated. Perhaps the most intriguing of these is the story concerning Wally Butts, former head of the Egyptian Mummy Expedition. As a lad, Butts was rather poor, so he was in the habit of browsing in bookstores and managing to study a page at a time before the salesman became suspicious. By this method, he learned the Assyrian dialect. Eventually a professor at Cambridge noticed him, and the authorities decided that he should be given a scholarship if he could pass a test in that language. Cambridge resorting to borrowing a professor from Oxford, for, in truth, no one at Cambridge had the slightest knowledge of the Assyrian tongue. The night before the exam, he dreamed of his approaching test, and in the dream the paper was green with six questions upon the paper. When he awoke, he tended to discount the dream because the paper was green; still, he had the presence of mind to jot down the six questions. When he sat down to take the exam, the very same six questions which had occurred in his dream appeared upon the question sheet, which was green, for the professor suffered from a rare optical disease and could read only from a green background.

CRUSADERS TRIMMED BY YALE; HOGAN GLOVE STAR OF 5-1 LOSS

By Tom Gray
For the last few years the Brooklyn Dodgers have been right in the middle of the National League pennant scuffle, despite their ability to leave a fabulous number of men on the bags each year. It looks like Holy Cross, defending College World Champion, is going to follow in the footsteps of the amazing "Bums."

Last Friday afternoon at Yale, the Crusaders advanced one big step toward a runner-stranding record as they left fourteen runners glued to the sacks while losing to the Bulldogs, 5 to 1.

Many fans blame weak hitting as the reason for the loss to Yale, as well as to the Cantabs of Harvard a week earlier. The Purple, however, managed to wangle six bingles off the service of three Bulldog hurlers a performance which, though not record shattering, is usually enough to win a college "squeaker." It wasn't at the plate that the Crusaders were beaten, rather in the field, where four misuses stood out like sore thumbs.

Lefty Jack Lonergan, the same Jack Lonergan who lost the heart-breaking 1-0 one-hitter to the Mississippi Tigers out in Omaha last year, pitched good ball for seven innings but could not get by the fielding misuses of his mates.

Four Run First
Yale jumped out in front in the opening stanza, counting four times on a double by Yale captain Bobby Brown, a walk and a wild pitch. Then, with men on second and third, Hugo Guidotti slammed a single to left, scoring Brown. Gene Schiller made a wild throw from deep short Phil Mathias' shot and another run crossed. After Dave Reed popped out, Ray Walker slammed one to Bob Johnson who fielded it cleanly... and threw it into right field. Two runs dented the dish on that play. Lefty then retired the side on a flyout.

In the Yale second, starting hurler Bjorn tapped a single to left, advanced to second on a free pass, and was picked off there by Pete Naton. Brown sent Scinto to third on a single, and he came home on Bob Johnson's boot.

The only Cross score came on a double by "Breeze" Brissette and a single by Art Moosmann. Dick Hogan made two beautiful plays on fly balls, one a fence-crashing catch of Mickey's foul drive.

Indians, Friars Next On Diamond Schedule

Mullins Or O'Neill Will Start For Friars Here; U. of Mass., Wednesday

Three games are slated for the Purple varsity nine this next week, weather permitting. However, if the team runs into the same kind of opposition from Mother Nature as it has been (exclusive of last Saturday), the team manager may as well pack away the equipment until next season.

Coach Jack Barry's men are scheduled to meet Dartmouth at Hanover tomorrow, game time being 4 p.m. The Green should have a tremendous advantage over H.C. because this contest is their twenty-second scheduled appearance as compared with our tenth. And when you realize that three of the previous nine have been cancelled, you can size up the situation for yourself. The game will be the 69th renewal of a rough series, the Cross having thus far a commanding 56-12 advantage. Last year the teams ended their two-game home and home series in a stalemate. The defeat by Dartmouth was one of the three sustained by the Purple in their 24-game slate.

MacKinnon Mound Ace

Captain and leading pitcher, Pete MacKinnon, heads the list of talent for the Jack Shawkey coached nine. In recent games MacKinnon has been setting the opposition on its ear. The other mainstay of the Green staff is lefty Fred Major who has been tough when he's had control.

On Saturday, Providence College will visit Fitton Field for a revival of the famous Dominican-Jesuit feud which has the men in black leading, 28-14. Under the tutelage of Harold Martin, the Friars also have a schedule advantage over the Purple, this contest being their nineteenth. Bill Mullins, a Worcester product, and Fred O'Neill are the two leading chukkers for a team predominantly green and weak in hitting. Mullins dealt Connecticut its first loss last Wednesday.

Mass. U. on Wednesday

The last game of the coming week pits the Purple against the Redmen from the University of Massachusetts. Coach Earl Lorden has a tremendous pitching problem confronting him. Only two experienced moundsmen are included on the team's roster, and both of them, Don Swanson and Hugh MacKenzie, saw only limited action. Captain Bob Pedigree is the only returning regular who managed to hit the horsehide at a respectable clip last season. H.C. is a new opponent for the Redmen this year in a game that marks the renewal of a series that shows the Cross leading, 11-1.

As this is the last TOMAHAWK of the semester, let's take a quick look at the remainder of the schedule for the bigger ball games. B.C. is on the agenda three times before the end of the year, on May 30 and June 8 and 9. A return battle with Harvard is scheduled for June 6, and probably the year's most important game, with a return trip to Omaha pending, is the Connecticut contest slated for Saturday, May 23. The only contest of the seven remaining after the UMass game next Wednesday that is away from Fitton Field is the B.C. clash of June 8.

NYU BECOMES FOURTH PURPLE VICTIM; WILTS AT FITTON, 3-2

By Bob McCormack

New York University handed the Cross its fourth win of the season, via a 3-2 squeaker, before a sun-soaked Fitton Field gathering on Saturday. Gangling Vin Lupica of the Bronx held the Crusader batters to a meager two safeties while Ron Perry gave up six hits to the Violets. Lupica issued his fourth free pass in the ninth and that was the costly one, for it came with the bases loaded and forced in the winning tally.

The mystery of the Crusaders' silent bats continued but the reason was rather evident on Saturday. Lupica chucked an assortment of pitches to the plate and was very effective with a crafty change of pace. Perry was equally brilliant for the Cross.

Cote, Liebler Whip Crimson And Bruins

The Harvard Freshmen literally threw the ball game away at Soldiers Field last Saturday when four errant throws were responsible for five of the Crusaders' tallies. These tainted runs were welcome in the 8-3 ball game and by no means did they detract from Ron Cote's sizzling two-hitter. He fanned thirteen and walked three.

The Crimson first baseman, John Maher, doubled in two of the free passes in the eighth and then scored himself on a wild relay.

Harvard's twirler, Bob Kessler, brewed his own stew in the third when Dick Curran doubled and scored on Jack Stephan's bounder as the ball was thrown by third base. Dick Shaver reached first on an error and followed Stephens home when Kessler attempted a third base pick-off and threw wild.

Jim Quinn and Stephens carried across runs 4 and 5 without the aid of a hit in the seventh. In the eighth, Quinn banged a single into center scoring Dick O'Brien from third. The big blow of the contest came in the ninth when Don Prohovich belted a towering homer to right after Shaver singled.

Brown Game

The Freshmen nine had its biggest scoring spree of the season in Providence yesterday, when they overwhelmed the Brown squad, 10-2. Pitcher Joe Liebler was never in any serious trouble and coasted to his third win.

The Crusaders scored seven runs in the first three innings. Five Bruin errors during that time were responsible for four unearned tallies. Pete Bartuska was the mound victim, allowing six hits, two to Liebler, and walked three. Liebler, in the seventh, doubled for his third safety and

The mystery of the Crusaders' silent bats continued but the reason was rather evident on Saturday. Lupica chucked an assortment of pitches to the plate and was very effective with a crafty change of pace. Perry was equally brilliant for the Cross.

The Purple gave Ron a one-run lead in the first when Gene Schiller got a free ride to first, pilfered second and then third. Captain Art Moosmann walked and Dick Hogan forced him at second, Schiller scoring on the play.

Violets Score Twice

N. Y. U. took care of their scoring in the third frame. With two Violets on the bases, southpaw swinger Mike DeAngelis crossed up the defense by looping a liner into left field. Dick Hogan charged the ball, which eluded his grasp and rolled past, as the runners churned around the bases. Mihalcz came home easily and speedy Tommy DeLuca, running from first, was charging right on his heels. Moosmann retrieved the ball and uncorked a mighty heave to the plate. Naton just missed DeLuca with a desperation lunge.

Perry and Lupica matched zeros until the fifth when the Cross evened up the score. Bob Johnson started matters off with a routine tap to the mound. Sophomore Bob wound up at third when Lupica's throw wound up in right field. Naton gave the fans something to shout about when he lashed a vicious single into left scoring Johnson and giving the Crusaders their first hit.

Holy Cross won the contest in the ninth as Captain Payerle muffed Parisi's fly to center allowing Tony to scamper to second. Dyson sacrificed Hetherington, running for Parisi, to third and all hands were safe on Lupica's late throw. Pete Naton was intentionally passed and Perry came to the plate. The situation was tense as the count went to 3 and 2. Lupica's pitch was tight at the belt to Ron and Hetherington strolled home.

A RETORT . . .

With some regrets, I feel compelled to answer the letter by Mr. Salvatore Marra which you find elsewhere on this sports page. The issue is by no means as great as he would lead you to believe. Definitely there was no malice intended. The few track men with whom I brought the matter up agreed with me on both these points. I also talked the matter over with thirty students and all agreed that the headline correctly reported the event.

What I will attempt to do in a few words is justify the use of the word in question. By his own statements, Mr. Marra admits that the word is used by some newspapers. He denies, however, that it is used in certain publications. Of these, he could name only two—the New York Times and the New York Tribune. As a matter of fact, it is not the policy of the TOMAHAWK to emulate any newspaper. It is our task and our duty to report the news as it happens in the best way we can. Toward this end, we follow the patterns of no newspaper.

Should this be our goal, though, there would be sufficient examples in outside publications. We find words such as: jar, romp, wallop, jolt, rip, and trounce. Even in the New York Times sports section, similar terms are found. Included are: crush, belt, blast, and assault. These words, to a greater and lesser degree, are comparable with the one under discussion.

Should we decide to go to TOMAHAWK issues of recent years, we would find ample evidence to prove this headline was not without precedent. We find: "St. Louis Soundly Whips Traveling Crusaders," "Syracuse Wallops Crusaders," "Cross Slaughters Dartmouth, 85-53," "B. U. Team Crushes Jayvees," "Cross Smothers N.Y.A.C. and Trinity," "Duquesne Romps Over Holy Cross."

For a headline depicting a badly beaten track team, we note "Gallogly Only Victor in 99-36 Track Debacle" (Holy Cross on the short end). By Mr. Marra's standard, there is little "respect" in that phrase. In the headline "Cousy Leads H. C. Assault; Mangles Eagles Defense," we come to the word in question. It appears that the only thing foreign about "mangles" and sister words is the fact that my predecessors and other sports editors did not realize that they were taboo.

A FOND FAREWELL . . .

Another year has rolled to a close and for many, it means a sad departure from their part-time home. Many have contributed to maintain the name of Holy Cross at the top of the athletic ladder. Of the seniors, two in particular shine above the others. They are Earle Markey and Charlie Maloy. The people of Worcester honored the latter on May 7 for all he has done for the school and the city. I would like to take this opportunity to thank these two and all the other athletes for their tireless efforts and extremely successful accomplishments.

Many have labored in the background as unsung regulars. Still others were forced to the role of reserves. Some have lacked the talent to play regularly on the great teams we have had up here the past four years. Others have been treated unkindly by Lady Luck. For all these, the task was a very difficult one. They received little praise and little glory for their efforts. A knee injury stopped John Seyda just as he started his bid for the varsity fullback post. Pat Ryan had double trouble. Not only was he out all the 1951 season with a broken ankle but he also had the misfortune to be playing behind Charlie Maloy. Spike Casey could have played regularly at a smaller school but was a rarely used reserve here. To these and the others of the unsung legion goes a very special thanks for all their efforts.

THIS 'N THAT . . .

Ronnie Perry's victory Saturday marked his fifteenth without a loss as a collegian. As a scholastic, he racked up a 15-4 record. . . . Even though he has been having trouble with his hitting so far this year, Pete Naton hasn't let it effect his hustle. When Perry went to cover the unguarded keystone in the fourth inning of the N.Y.U. game, he raced down to back Ron up. The throw from the outfield was wide and past the pitcher. Pete grabbed the ball and kept the runner from taking third. . . . Dick Hogan took quite a bit of abuse from the N.Y.U. bench. Though there was a large and partisan crowd, few of the fans did much cheering. It's a pretty bad situation when our players are faced with more jeers than cheers at home games.

Freshman Run Away In H.C. Intramural Track

By Howie Nolan

Monday afternoon, May 11, the third annual intramural track meet was run, and much to everybody's surprise the Freshman class ran away with the honors. They were trailing throughout most of the meet, but by dint of gaining first places in the last three events of the afternoon, the 880-yard run, the three-quarter mile run and the class relay, they nosed out the Sophomores 32½ to 27½ points. The Seniors were third with 19 points, and the Juniors trailed with 12 points.

Outstanding Performances

There were several outstanding individual performances turned in, considering that nobody had practiced too much for the meet because of the inclement weather and the fact that no spiked shoes were allowed. Phil Reilly, big sophomore from Albany, threw the shot put 44' 3¾", Junior Paul Rollins ran a strong 57.3 quarter, and frosh Jim O'Brien cracked the tape in the 100-yard dash in 10.7, for some of the outstanding performances.

The meet was run very orderly and the events were run off in fine precision, thanks to the excellent job turned in by the Purple Key and the Holy Cross varsity track team, who were co-sponsors of the meet. Coming in for a special bit of praise should be Jim Snyder and Bill Stephanak who actually ran the meet. Even the weatherman chipped in. The meet was run under ideal weather conditions, the temperature being about 80 degrees, and the sun shining brightly.

The Results of the Meet

Three-quarter Mile Run: Won by George Assenheimer, '56; 2nd, Bob Dolan, '53; 3rd, Leo Winburg, '55; 4th, Frank Doyle, '55. Time, 3:35.

Class Relay: Won by the Freshman class (O'Brien, McGinnity, Considine, Cronin). Time, 1:42.7.

Track Briefs: The varsity track team has been pointing for the New England College's track meet. Holy Cross has four outstanding performers, who must either be rated as favorites or top challengers in their respective events. They are Bob Sweeney in the 100-yard dash, Pete Sanderson in the 440, Bruce McConnachie in the half mile, and Paul Murphy in the mile. Sanderson and Murphy are undefeated in their specialties this year.

Ray Murphy, Gerry O'Toole Head Next Year's Holy Cross Tankmen

"Hot sun, warm breeze—brother, that's swimming weather," quipped a medium rare occupant of the fire escape atop Fenwick. No doubt the same picture drifted through many another mind this past weekend but, oddly enough, the warm weather always marks the close of the collegiate swimming season.

At Putnam & Thurston's last Tuesday the Purple swimming team closed out the 1952-53 season with their annual banquet and also announced next year's co-captains. Ray Murphy and Gerry O'Toole, both Juniors, will lead the Cross swimmers in their title quests.

Regis Graduate

Ray graduated from Regis after having captained the Red Raiders as a senior. A year previous he had been anchor man on the 200-yard freestyle relay which placed second in the National Catholic Invitational Tourney. With summers spent at Jones Beach where he worked as a life-guard Ray had no trouble keeping in trim. Now, as a Navy Regular and a B.S. Chem student, his practice time is at a premium, making things much more difficult. A look at the record shows that practice isn't everything, however. Last season the New Yorker copped first place in the 100-yard freestyle City Meet and this year the 200-yard New England freestyle title was carried off by the big Junior. As if this weren't enough, Ray swims for the Worcester Y in his spare time and still manages to rate a "B" average in all subjects.

Gerry O'Toole specializes in diving and is a native of Worcester. Of course he never swam at South Strack but was known instead for his ability on the gridiron. He attended Brown for a few months where he played Freshman ball and it was during stay there that he started to take diving seriously. Always good at falling, he just had to learn to do a few things on the way down and was all set.

Co-Captains Gerry O'Toole and Ray Murphy

This year he won third place in the City Meet but lack of practice is a big obstacle. Majoring in Physics and Math doesn't leave too much time for much of anything and add to the fact that Gerry works at night at a bank and you have a picture of a very busy guy.

Letters to the Editor

Re your article "HARVARD TRACK TEAM MANGLES CRUSADERS," I should like to make clear a few of my thoughts on the use of the word "MANGLES" as referred to the Holy Cross Track Team. It seems to me that, although the team lost to Harvard by a sizable margin, this word signifies something entirely untrue. The Crusaders made a creditable showing with victories in the three feature races, the 440, the 880, and the one mile run. Our lack of depth and field event men alone caused the defeat. This word, moreover, is distasteful and disrespectful.

"MANGLES" is a word foreign to the coverage of sports by those newspapers that THE TOMAHAWK should strive to emulate. Still more important is the fact that the track team is your representative as well as the coach's, the Athletic Association's, and the college's and is therefore worthy of your respect. The word "MANGLES" denotes a lack of respect and school spirit. The track team does not receive the material that the other major athletic teams receive but has as arduous a schedule as any of them and does very well.

The Holy Cross relayists have a record of sixteen wins and one defeat which included triumphs in such standout track powers as Georgetown, Villanova, Syracuse, Fordham with a solitary loss to St. John's Hall. I speak on behalf of the team captain, Bart Sullivan, the Holy Cross Track Team, and request more respect for our team than you have shown in the past. The trackmen practice outdoors the entire school year, on even the bitter cold days of winter, not for their own benefit alone but also yours and the college's, and they deserve some credit for their toil. The word "MANGLES" does not do much credit.

Very truly yours,

Salvatore R. Marra, '53
Mgr. Holy Cross Track

fourth r.b.i.

Frank Rego took the pitching chores in the fourth and went the rest of the way, giving up three markers on four hits. He started the game at shortstop.

Purple second-sacker, Frank Loneragan contributed to the ten-hit assault with two singles, three runs scored and two runs batted in.

A few last-minute glimpses at the statistics show Dick Santaniello, Ron Cote and Don Prohovich top stickmen with marks of .414, .375, and .318. Cote has 35 strikeouts and Liebler 34.

The team plays home tomorrow and at Providence Saturday.

TENNIS TEAM

Last Saturday, the Purple netmen took the measure of the technical of M.I.T. by a 6-3 margin. Conlin and Art O'Shea won fifth consecutive doubles match and 8-6. Bill Reynolds and Bill Gelnaw also copped in the doubles. Block, George Carolan, Conlin, Gelnaw were victorious in singles matches.

The netmen racked up another yesterday at the expense of Providence College, 8-1. Singles victors Block, Gelnaw, Carolan, O'Shea, Pete Reiss. The three doubles winners were Joe Pierce and O'Shea, Hess and Reynolds, Carolan and Gelnaw.

Providence Trackmen Bow To Purple 80-55

By Dave Janick

Improving with age, the Holy Cross track team swept to their second consecutive victory as they copped eleven out of fifteen first places to defeat the Providence College Friars, 80-55.

Jack Rutherford and Paul Dupuis, the high scorers for the Crusaders, each captured two first places and a third place finish. Rutherford won the shot put and discus throws and came in third in the hammer throw which was won by Mike Cooney with a throw of 150 feet. The high jump and the high hurdles were won by Dupuis who also recorded a third place in the low hurdles. Rutherford and Dupuis each had eleven points. The individual star, Bob Sweeney, recorded the best times of his career as he won the two sprint events, the 100 and 220, in 10 flat and 22 flat, respectively. Paul Murphy came from behind to beat Chris Lohner to win the mile event.

McConnachie Wins 440

Bruce McConnachie won the quarter mile as he recorded his best time since the indoor season terminated, finishing in 50.1. Don Farraina, who has proved to be a tremendous asset to the Crusaders, won the javelin throw with a toss of 170 feet, one of the finest throws H. C. has seen all season. Completing the first place finishes was Joe Devane, who won the half mile.

On Thursday the Crusaders meet the Boston College trackmen at New-Leticia. This should prove to be one of the toughest meets, since B. C. is loaded in the field events. Hal Connolly and Jimmy Low are sensational in the hammer and shot put, respectively. Both hold the B. C. records in these events. Jim Macaulay, a 10-foot javelin thrower, is a contender for the New England championship. Connolly and Low also excel in the discus.

McAllister Sole Sprint Star

On the track, Pat Lachiatta is a national hurdler and jumper while also a contender for a New England championship is Tony Sapienza in the two-mile event. He also runs the mile. The only threat in the sprints, John McAllister, has not appeared this season due to an injury.

Since Pete Sanderson pulled a leg muscle in the Boston University meet and may be out for the remainder of the season, Paul Murphy may run the quarter instead of the half against the Eagles.

The team is in the best shape they have been in all season so the coming meets, especially the Boston College meet, should be extremely interesting.

CONCLUDED

Larkin (74), Kelly (75), McDermott (72) scored for the Crusaders. Cambell (74) suffered the loss. The Crusaders close out the season tomorrow against Massachusetts University. The match is to be played at the opponent's home course in North.

Late Arrivals

7:00 p.m. . . . The staff members just knocked down a wall to allow the Assistant Sports Editor to come in for headline work. He's a guy who carries a lot of weight around campus, so it's well worth the effort. After patching most of the wall, the boys ran out of scotch tape and have sent an Assistant Managing Editor and a Copy Editor down to the cafe for some more. Hope they bring back some butts!

7:30 p.m. . . . Editor-in-Chief and Associate Editor just arrived. The latter had his rocking chair and knitting with him in preparation for a big evening. Some guy just walked up to the Sports Editor and demanded a three-column picture of the newly organized weight-lifting team. (The weights, he claims, are too big to be squeezed into a two-column job.)

8:30 p.m. . . . News Staff midget just arrived with late copy on the new Roosevelt-inspired stories—IRJ, B.J.F., and ABC. (Yes, Father, I'll delete the last.) Apparently one of the last caught him while he was looking for the first two organizations. These boys have a lot of perseverance. Some of the places they'll go for a story . . .

Missing Fuse Box

9:30 p.m. . . . Office bathed in light from the Chapel's reserve candles. Somebody blew a fuse (no, not the Editor) and we can't find the fuse box. We have men working on it, though. Funny thing just occurred. A second ABC story arrived. The boys are really going far for that fuse box.

10:00 p.m. . . . Lights are on again, and the Managing Editor is looking over the News Headlines. He's using some strange words—"hackneyed," "trite," "lifeless." Obviously talking about the recent JSP investigation.

10:45 p.m. . . . Copy Editor reading copy—out loud yet! He quotes: "Elmo P. Lemquist, '54, Grand Dragon, Bonehead Chapter No. 4377, Ku Klux Klan, recently announced . . ." Another boy that's got to go . . .

Eligible Copy

11:30 p.m. . . . Headlines all done. Sports Department finished up three hours ago, but one of the Asst. Sports Editors won't leave. Well, they finally got rid of him. Guess we might as well close up shop. Our final act is, of course, to sing our theme song, entitled "All the News That Fits, We Print."

In shorthand class we learn brief forms
For words used frequently;
And here's our sign for fresh, clean smokes:
It's L.S./M.F.T.

I've tried most brands of cigarettes
Discarded all the rest —
I'm sure your taste will tell you, too,
That Luckies are the best!

Nothing-no, nothing-beats better taste and LUCKIES
TASTE BETTER!
Cleaner, Fresher, Smoother!

Ask yourself this question: Why do I smoke?

You know, yourself, you smoke for enjoyment. And you get enjoyment only from the taste of a cigarette.

Luckies taste better—cleaner, fresher, smoother! Why? Luckies are made better to taste better. And, what's more, Luckies are made of fine tobacco. L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike Means Fine Tobacco.

So, for the thing you want most in a cigarette... for better taste—for the cleaner, fresher, smoother taste of Lucky Strike...

Be Happy—GO LUCKY!

I get a thrill from catching trout
And love to fish for pike;
But fishing ain't complete without
My good old Lucky Strike!
